I just think the white kids parents made them not like the black kids. Segregation was wrong. If I were a student back then I would make friends with the black kids. Why would they make kids of seven and eight or even younger worry about this? It was just plain old wrong.