In the poem, Aldrich explains the duty and goal of America. He uses the word "unguarded" to explain how we protect our land. We have it open to the world for all people to enter. He uses the words "Tower of Babel" to allude to when they built it in the Bible. He thinks that the different languages will cause America to fall.